I look into the eyes of the one who's pledged to me

And I see satisfaction in His gaze

His blood has covered everything that used to be

And I'm His since He rose up from the grave

There is joy, joy, joy in your house today O Lord

There is joy, joy, joy in your house today (2x) (today)

A well of life is springin' up inside of me

I want to jump, to shout, to sing, and play

I'll take His hand and dance this dance for all my days

His vict'ry and His light will lead the way
